FAMILY, A SEEDBED OF VOCATIONS

CALLED AND SET APART: LIVING THE CALL TO HOLINESS IN THE FAMILY

Danielle Bean, Author, Speaker, and Podcaster

St. John Paul II describes the profound influence his father had upon his vocation: "Day after day I was able to observe the austere way in which [my father] lived ...his example was in a way my first seminary, a kind of domestic seminary." Every household can prepare future generations to answer the call to marriage, to priesthood, or to the religious/consecrated life. This talk will focus on the different ways in which the family can nourish our vocation to sanctity and the personal vocation entrusted to us by the Father for the good of others. This talk will outline the fundamental understanding of the notion of vocation as it relates to the identity and mission of the family.

NURTURING VOCATIONS IN THE HOME

John S. Hamlon, Instructor, Easter's Faith Formation Center

What is the role of the family in developing a culture of vocations? According to Pope Francis, "All vocations make their first steps in the family." This talk will draw upon the wisdom and pastoral experience of the Church and personal stories to demonstrate the invaluable mission that married couples and families have to nourish and form all vocations. The unique perspective of the speaker will offer us insight into how the family becomes a healthy seedbed of vocations.

THE EUCHARISTIC MISSION OF THE FAMILY

Danielle Bean, Author, Speaker, and Podcaster

St. John Paul II teaches about the unity we find in the Eucharist: "Thus the Lord unites us with Himself through the Eucharist – sacrament and Sacrifice – and he unites us with Himself and with one another by a bond stronger than any natural union. Thus united, He sends us into the whole world to bear witness, through faith and works, to God's love." This talk will explore the ways that St. John Paul II emphasizes the unity of the Eucharist, Jesus' Real Presence in the Sacrament, and the ways in which the Eucharist places us in the moment of Jesus' death and resurrection. We will look at ways that the family in particular is called to be fed, inspired, and united with Jesus and one another, in the Holy Eucharist.
